

Pictures of You - The Cure

Intro riff: [A] [Asus4]/ [A]/ [D] [Dsus4]/ [D]/ x2

I've been [A] looking so long, at these [D] pictures of you

That I [A] almost believe that they're [D] real

I've been [A] living so long, with my [D] pictures of you

That I [A] almost believe, that the [D] pictures, are all I can [A] feel [D] [A] [D]

Re[A]membering you, standing [D] quiet in the rain

As I [A] ran to your heart to be [D] near

And we [A] kissed as the sky fell in, [D] holding you close

How I [A] always held close in your [D] fear

Re[A]membering you, running [D] soft through the night

You were [A] bigger and brighter, and [D] whiter than snow

And [A] screamed at the make believe, [D] screamed at the sky

And you [A] finally found, all your [D] courage, to let it all [A] go [D] [A] [D]

Re[A]membering you, fallin' [D] into my arms

[A] Crying for the death of your [D] heart

You were [A] stone white, so delicate, [D] lost in the cold

You were [A] always so lost in the [D] dark

Re[A]membering you, how [D] you used to be

Slow [A] drowned, you were angels, so [D] much more than everything

[A] Hold for the last time, then [D] slip away quietly

[A] Open my eyes but I [D] never see anything

If [E] only I'd thought of the [D] right words

I [E] could have held on to your [D] heart

If [E] only I'd thought of the [D] right words

I [E] wouldn't be breaking

A[D]part, all my pictures of [A] you [D] [A] [D]

(Quietly) [A] Looking so long, at these [D] pictures of you

But I [A] never hold on to your [D] heart

[A] Looking so long, for the [D] words to be true

But [A] always just breaking [D] apart, my pictures of [A] you [D] [A] [D]

There was [A]nothing in the world, that I [Bm] ever wanted more

Than to [A] feel you deep in my [D] heart

There was [A] nothing in the world, that I [D] ever wanted more

Than to [E] never feel the breaking [D] apart all my pictures of [A] you

[D] [A] [D] [A] /
