Run Run Run - The Libertines

(Intro 1st 2 lines of chorus) [F] [Cm] [Bb]

It's a [F] lifelong project of a life on the lash
I've for[A7]gotten how to care but I'll remember for cash [Dm] It's my party and I'll cry if I want to Light the [Bb] fuse, sing the blues, I can die if I want to

[F] Tonight we're gonna bring tomorrow's happiness
Gonna [A7] live like it's the end
I love you to [Dm] death, but I must sug[Bb]gest… / you'd better

(Chorus) [F] Run, run, run, boy, [Cm] faster than the past
Through the looking glass, if you [Bb] want the night to last
You'd better [F] run, run, run, boy, [Cm] faster than the past
Through the looking glass, if you [Bb] want the night to last

He's a [F] longtime blagger, wraps his hand in a band
Still knows the [A7] streets of Camden like the back of his hand
He's an [Dm] old time lover and a marathon man
And with the [Bb] strength of a thousand men

He's a [F] nightmare hangover, he's a one night stand
He can [A7] eat more chicken any man in the land
Well, I've [Dm] given up caring for happiness
When this [Bb] heart gives out, is when I'll rest

(Repeat Chorus)

(Quietly) 'Cause to[Dm]/night we're gonna [Am]/ spend, all
To[Bb]/morrow's happiness, if we don't [Gm]/ break before we [C] / Bend, and to[Dm]/night your soul is [Am]/ sighing
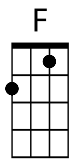
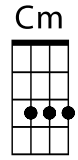
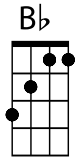
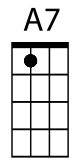
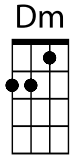
It'll [Bb]/ turn out nice again, it's only (Louder) mo-[C]-ney in the end

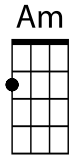
(Repeat Chorus)


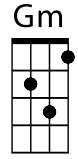


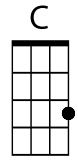












You'd better [F] run, run, run, boy, [Cm] faster than the past
Through the looking glass, if you [Bb] want the night to last
You'd better [F] /run
